

"EveryWear" Jacket Vest

Unplanned, the jacket-vest is what started our business... We were building our own log home and, by September, needed something comfortable to work in that kept us warm while leaving our arms free. Judy designed jacket-length vests with deep pockets, made from heavy denim and logger flannel. We liked them so much we thought, "If we made these with classy fabric, we could wear them to town!" So she did, and people kept asking us where they could get vests like that...

The pockets are a great place to stash things like wallet, keys, phone, lunch snack, you name it. Reversibility gives a choice between two fabric looks in one garment, and pockets are accessible both ways – from the side seam on primary side, from the top of the pocket on reverse side.

▼ Primary & reverse of same vest ▼

Whether viewed as a long vest or a sleeveless jacket, this garment is comfortable in a wide range of temperatures, with a lightweight shirt in the breezy 70s to a heavy sweatshirt or sweater in freezing weather. It is designed to be both durable and tasteful with anything from jeans to dressy slacks/skirts ~ our Solarado version of "style." ☺

EveryWear = grab-n-go, anywhere any time!